

The Springs Resort Welcomes Globally Known Skincare Line with Local Colorado Roots

The trending wellness destination adds to its healing offerings with facials from the all-natural, Fair Trade, ISUN product line.

PAGOSA, Colorado (March, 2022) – The Springs Resort, a hot springs mecca in Colorado’s wellness destination scene, has begun offering a range of facials using ISUN, a luxury line of organic skin products developed and produced in the region’s San Juan Mountain range.

The ISUN product line is fair trade, cruelty-free, sustainably sourced and free from harmful chemicals. Products are created using cold-process manufacturing techniques and include plant extracts such as peptides, enzymes and antioxidants. Some of the world’s most high-end destination spas around the world carry the ISUN line.

The 79-room resort, featuring 25 soaking pools terraced along the banks of the San Juan River, will offer guests five different ISUN facials in their spa. Nature-infused ingredients such as berries, herbs and essential oils are enhanced with therapeutic tools such as quartz crystals, 12-point facial marma massage and scalp, neck & shoulder massage.

In 2021, The Springs Resort was recognized by Organic Spa Magazine’s 2021 Wellness Awards in the Best Mineral Bathing/Hot Springs category and named the #10 Best Resort in Colorado in Condé Nast Traveler Readers’ Choice Awards. Securing the area-exclusive ISUN line shows they are taking their spa offerings up a notch, too.

“A visit to Pagosa Springs is all about embracing the gifts from Mother Nature that are all around us,” explains Sharon Holtz, Director of Resort Wellness Operations, “and feeling the direct benefit of soaking in our mineral-rich geothermal waters. A spa experience while at The Springs Resort should be a natural extension of that locally-sourced rejuvenation, so we were delighted to partner with a product company with such integrity from right here in the San Juan Mountains, while at the same time offering our guests powerful, natural products only found at the world's best spas.”
